

Canaray Radiology Clinic

On the sixth floor of a commercial office building, this 1,067 sf renovation provides a crisp backdrop for the careful and sensitive work of a start-up radiology clinic.

The use of full-height glass partitions allows natural light to fill the clinic. The deliberate play of light through the partitions creates visual interest and depth, and an unusual view of the largely undeveloped landscape around the building.

Oak and white lacquered millwork complete the space.
